Bovine anaplasmosis caused by Anaplasma marginale is an economically important tick-borne disease. Modified live vaccines have been used for the control of the disease in a trial program led by Roman Ganta.

Biting flies on dairy farms can spread bovine mastitis

19th August 2024

Bovine mastitis is a disease which causes inflammation of the mammary glands, resulting in abnormal or reduced milk production in cattle. It can be fatal if left untreated. Bovine mastitis can be caused by pathogenic bacteria, and other microbes, though the exact mechanism of transmission was previously well understood. In a recent study published inâ?|
